

OPENING LINES

Match the book to the first sentence

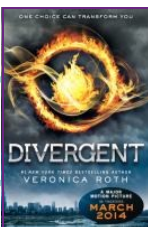

Uglies

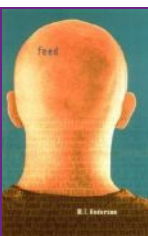

The Fault in our Stars

The Hunger Games

Divergent

Feed

The Last Olympian

A. Late in the winter of my seventeenth year, my mother decided I was depressed, presumably because I rarely left the house, spent quite a lot of time in bed, read the same book over and over, ate infrequently, and devoted quite a bit of my abundant free time to thinking about death.

B. The end of the world started when a pegasus landed on the hood of my car.

C. The early morning sky was the color of cat vomit.

D. When I wake up, the other side of the bed is cold.

E. There is one mirror in my house.

F. We went to the moon to have fun, but the moon turned out to completely suck.